Selected Projects

Darji Pro - Enterprise Smart Tailoring Platform | Next.js, FastAPI, PostgreSQL, Scikit-learn | github.com/Aayush-jas123/darji-pro

- Action: Engineered an AI-powered enterprise tailoring platform featuring a TypeScript/Next.js frontend and a robust FastAPI backend, deployed using a single-service monolith architecture.
- Development: Built a machine learning recommendation engine using Scikit-learn and Random Forest classifiers to deliver AI size predictions, measurement anomaly detection, and custom alteration suggestions.
- Result: Developed 60+ REST API endpoints supporting secure role-based access control (RBAC), multi-branch management, and smart appointment scheduling with automated conflict detection.

vcloak - Secure Luggage Storage Platform | Python, Flask, PostgreSQL, Vanilla JS | https://www.google.com/search?q=vcloak-platform.onrender.com

- Action: Developed and deployed a full-stack web application connecting travelers with local providers for secure luggage storage, featuring distinct, feature-rich dashboards for travelers, providers, and platform admins.
- Development: Engineered a robust backend using Python, Flask, and PostgreSQL (NeonDB), implementing JWT authentication for secure sessions and SQLAlchemy ORM for efficient database operations.
- Result: Built a responsive, modern UI integrating the Google Maps API for interactive location browsing and Chart.js to provide real-time earning and booking analytics for storage providers.

PanaceAI | AWS, AI/ML Analytics | [Insert GitHub Link]

- Action: Led the system design for PanaceAI, an AI-powered platform that tracks behavior, analyzes data in real-time, and sends notifications to handle public health issues.

- Development: Deployed backend services and AI models on AWS, ensuring scalability and dependability for health-related data.
- Result: Developed automated alerting systems for hospitals using cloud-based real-time analytics to improve reaction times during critical health situations.
